REILLY TAKES DECISION OVER LEAHY IN FAST BOUT

Greatest Exhibition Ever Seen in Honolulu Delighted Crowded House at the Orpheum Theater Last Night.

Reilly beat Leahy 15 rounds.
Weber beat Gagnon 6 rounds.

The referee again wins anonymity. Last time his name was suppressed on account of his genial smile. This time he preserves his incognito because he had the courage to give a very just decision in the face of sentiment that would have made many a good referee waver.

There was no doubt about it. Reilly fairly and truly gained the decision after fifteen rounds of the best boxing ever seen in the town. It is true that Leahy had the better of some of the rounds and there was one time when he landed a right swing on Reilly's jaw that had the local favorite guessing. But, take it all round, Reilly had the better of it all the way through and went after his man so lustily in the last round that Joe was very nearly all in.

It was one grand bout. From the first tap of the gong to the time when the police failed to keep the crowd from surging into the ring after the last round, it was science and strength exhibited at their best.

Leahy showed that he is not quite so clever as Reilly but clever enough to stand off the fierce rights that Charlie let go time and time again. He also showed that he has a punch. In the tenth round he let go a hay-maker that landed square on Reilly's jaw, and for a few seconds the latter looked groggy.

Reilly made a whirlwind finish, and in the last four rounds outboxed and outgeneraled his opponent. It is hardly an exaggeration to say that the gong saved Leahy in the last round. Reilly had him worried in the first part of the round and then let loose a series of lefts and rights that staggered the game mahini and kept him covering himself up as best he could.

After the bout was over a crowd surged into the ring and surrounded the boxers and referee. It was several minutes before the ring was cleared sufficiently for the decision to be announced, and even then many in the audience had to ask who had won.

McFadden was in Leahy's corner and, as usual, made a nuisance of himself. He insisted on climbing along the ropes and obstructing the view of the people in the boxes, until ordered to desist by the referee. After the last round he rushed into the ring and held up Leahy's hand. The action fooled many of the spectators, who thought that it had been done by the referee. But a tardy policeman yanked him away and his bluff failed to connect.

The preliminary between Gagnon of the destroyer Stewart and young Weber was a slap-bang go from start to finish. Weber had very much the better of the first three rounds, then the sailor bucked up and bid fair to gain a draw, but Weber was the stronger of the two and took a well-earned decision at the end of six rounds of hard milling.

This fellow Gagnon has class. He was absolutely out of condition and went into the ring with no training. He is a long, rangy boxer, and has a wonderful left that cut Weber's face all to pieces. Had he been anywhere near in condition he would have gained the decision, as he has natural advantages over Weber that are too great for the short-armed boy to overcome.

Young Weber proved his punching powers but failed to show any cleverness, and while he is a very game and gentlemanly youngster, he has none of the ear marks of a coming champion. He has a very hard punch, but little science wherewith to deliver it. In spite of the fact that the house was crowded with sailors, the decision was well received and Referee Frankie Smith gave the only verdict possible.

It was announced from the ring that Frankie Smith would meet Trinkle next Tuesday night before the Independence Club. Chalmers Graham officiated as master of ceremonies and his announcing, as usual, won the admiration of the fans. It is worth going to see a show to see this genial personality in the ring and listen to his even and well-pitched voice when he announces.

When Reilly was introduced it was announced that he challenged McFadden to a twenty-round go, winner to take all, whether he won or lost his go with Leahy. McFadden accepted the challenge, but introduced a joker to the effect that Reilly must make 128 pounds ringside. It is not likely that McFadden will ever enter the ring with Leahy again. There will probably be jokers and then more jokers, indicating a low temperature at his pedal extremities.

Frankie Smith also challenged Reilly should he win the bout, and this go will probably be pulled off in the near future. Frankie has sized up very well in his recent training work and there are many who believe that he is the one lad who can trim that clever Reilly.

TENNIS PLAYERS ARE HARD AT IT

The tennis players were busy yesterday afternoon and the preliminaries of the championship tournament were played off on the Beretania and Pacific courts. R. A. Cooke beat L. S. Connors, 6-1, 6-4; W. L. Warren beat Harold Castle, 2-6, 6-4, 6-3; A. L. Castle beat J. P. Cooke, 6-0, 6-4; C. G. Boekus beat S. M. Ballou, by default; and A. J. Lowrey beat S. A. Baldwin, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

All games will be played on the Beretania courts on Monday. W. L. Warren will play C. G. Boekus at four o'clock, and at the same hour on the other court A. L. Castle will play A. J. Lowrey. At half-past four F. E. Greenfield will play F. E. Steere, and R. A. Cooke will play Ray Rietow.

It is impossible to make any forecast of the probable winner in the championship series. Young Rietow has been practising very steadily and is liable to make a good showing. C. G. Boekus is another man to be reckoned with, and there may be a surprise sprung before the series is finished.

The officers of the fleet are taking quite an interest in the games, and there were several of them out to watch the preliminaries. Many of them have expressed regret that they will not be here long enough to see the finish of the tournament.

Entry lists for the other events are still open and will remain so for a day or two. Several ladies have come in for the ladies' doubles and singles and there will be a lively contest for the championship in these events.

FRENCH SAILOR WILL BOX TODAY

When two of the sailors from the Catinat were asked whether there was any chance of some games with their ship they replied "Pas de sport la bas." But that was where they were wrong. There is a boxer aboard and his name is Goulard, and he is a gunner or "Cannonier."

At two o'clock this afternoon at the Flotilla Athletic Club he will box with Spike Tinehan of the destroyer Hull for the lightweight championship of the Pacific Flotilla. The Frenchman is said to be a handy lad with his mitts and a fast bout will undoubtedly result.

TENNIS PLAYERS PASS THROUGH

Beals C. Wright and F. B. Alexander passed through Honolulu on board the Marama yesterday. They are bound for Melbourne, where they are going to play in a series of tennis matches. Wright was the American champion for 1905 and Alexander was the doubles champion with H. H. Hackett.

The tennis players were entertained by local players who were also classmates of theirs at Harvard. They took an auto ride round the city and then were taken to lunch at the University Club, leaving there just in time to catch the steamer before she left the dock at three o'clock.

Among those who were there to see them off were Harold Dillingham, Clifford Kimball, Albert Afong, A. L. Castle and Will Roth. Just before the gang plank was raised everybody went on board with the visitors and were so much taken up with saying goodbye that they forgot to come ashore again. By the time they woke up to the fact that it was time to get ashore that gangway was off the dock. There was plenty of laughter at their expense but the plank was lowered and they all made their way safely onto the wharf.

Both the American representatives enjoyed their short stay here immensely and were only sorry that they could not stay longer. They will play only in Melbourne where they will not make a very long stay and then will return to the United States soon after Christmas, passing through Honolulu again on their return.

VISIT TO MAUI MUST BE SOON

Word comes from Secretary Williams of the Maui cricket team that the latter will not be able to entertain the Honolulu players during November but are very anxious to have them come over at the end of this month.

Mr. Williams suggests the team leaving Honolulu by the Mauna Kea on Tuesday, October 27. They would be met at McGregor's landing and driven to Wailuku where they would stay the night. On Wednesday, October 28, they could play a match at Kahului and return that same night on the Claudine.

The matter will be taken up at a meeting of the local club early next week and all players who think of going are requested to find out by that time if they can make the trip or not. Mr. Williams states that only one thing would interfere and that is the weather. Should there be a heavy rain storm previous to the date of the match, the game would have to be called off on account of the ground. They will, however, notify the local club by wireless as to this in plenty of time.

HIGH SCHOOL DEFEATS PERRY

Schoolboys Too Quick for the Sailors, Who Lose Game by 17 to 0.

The High School lads were too quick and well-trained for the boys from the Perry yesterday afternoon at Punahou field and beat them in a football game by two goals and one try, seventeen points to nil.

The sailors were quite a little the heavier team but the school boys had the signals and end work down to a fine point and literally ran all round their opponents.

Bill Rice scored two of the touch downs and Kuwamoto, the clever little Japanese, scored the third one in the second half. Austin White made his first appearance in a football game and did very well at center, kicking the two goals very neatly and coolly.

The first score was made within two minutes after the kick off. Bill Rice took possession and romped down the field with exceptionally poor interference to guard him, but he was so quick and clever at dodging that the sailors were unable to tackle him and he went over the line and placed between the goal posts.

Austin White converted and the sides changed end. The scholars took possession soon after this and took the ball well into Perry territory but were unable to score. The sailors bucked up when they at last got the ball and went well back towards the school goal but lost there and the High School once more had the ball.

From a signal for an end run Kuwamoto took the sphere and made a fine run of forty yards only to be downed by a clever tackle by Davis. Then Rice was called on for a run and he dodged round the end, again almost without interference and romped over. White again kicked the goal and the score was 12 to 0 in favor of the home team.

The first half lasted fifteen minutes and the second was cut down to ten owing to the lack of training of the sailors. After the kick the Perry team took possession and then ensued a magnificent series of line bucks which seemed as though they must surely end in a score for the water dogs.

Every signal called for a mass formation and the husky destroyers made gain after gain until they were a bare ten yards from the other goal line. Here they made the big mistake of the day. Instead of calling for another line buck, they tried an end run. Fox fumbled and a school boy fell on the ball so the sailors lost possession.

Andrews stood well back of the line, caught the ball cleverly from the pass back and punted way up into Perry land. Then he punted again and Kuwamoto caught on a bounce and romped almost with nobody to stop him. White stayed out the second half so Andrews took the kick but failed and the score stood 17 to 0.

Time was nearly up by this time and there was no more scoring, although Davis made a grand run that looked bad for the school. The Perry team showed decided signs of class but they lacked practise and their weight was not sufficient to overcome the sprightliness of the boys they were playing against.

The High School team is by no means in championship form yet. Rice, Andrews, Chillingworth and Kuwamoto all played a good game, but the team was ragged to say the least. The interference was so bad that one might almost say there was none. Before the boys line up against Punahou they will have to get together and shake into team work.

The High School passing was good, and there was little fumbling. They tried no forward passing at all, so their capabilities in this direction were not shown.

A match is being arranged between the Oahu College team and one from the Colorado, to take place probably next Wednesday. The Punahou boys lined the field and rooted for the sailors, but their encouragement was of no avail and the lighter team won all the way.

The lineup was:
Perry. C. High School.
Grether. L. E. White, Pratt
Burlison. H. Chillingworth
Brundage. L. G. Kuhn
Wiswell. L. T. Saffery
